"Marketing Heroes to the Rescue"

With social media being such a force online now, companies are able to leverage those tools to increase their link popularity. Companies are utilizing blogs, forums, Twitter, etc. to help build communities that naturally want to link together. We help generate traffic to your website via social media sites such as Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, Google+, LinkedIn, StumbleUpon, Reddit, etc.

We even generate social media relevant content for your site. Here you will find a summary of the activities we perform and our popular social media management packages.

Overview

Social media marketing is comprised of three general services: Content Creation, Follower Growth, and Social Strategy.

At the Flying V Group, we offer all of the above services to our clients for many different social media platforms. Twitter and Facebook are the most popular, but depending on your company's product or services, other mediums like Google Plus or LinkedIn may also be useful. It is important to understand the overall goals of the company and how we can use the right mediums to achieve those goals.

Services

Content Creation

Content creation includes the designing and writing of Facebook posts, Twitter tweets, etc. (both visual and text). We schedule posts with original content in order for your company's social media presence to be consistent, unique, and memorable. Each post is created with the target market in mind and is designed to talk to those that follow you or might have an interest in your company.

Social media not only consists of text, but also images and video. Images and video are a great way to boost user interaction and get people excited about your company.

Follower Growth

We use both organic and automated methods in order to increase a company's follower growth. Our tools allow us to engage with customers that we know are interested in your company and its' product through keyword targeting, location based targeting, and user based targeting. For example, if we are selling footballs, we are able to directly connect and interact with users that either enjoy football, play football, or need to buy a football.

Social Strategy

Social media is not just about posting random statuses, images, and videos, at least not if you want to gain any type of social media traction. It is important to have a set strategy that is also supported by a cast of people. For example, we strategize with the client and then use graphic designers, content writers, developers, etc. to maximize your dollar and deploy an effective and wide reaching social media campaign.
